FRONT ST., BELLEVILLE

AT GIBRALTAR, (1770)

This is the tale they tell
Of the brave sentinel,
When fleets of France and Spain
Anchored and flung their van
On the troops at Gibraltar,
Which, starving, would not falter!
Forth from his mossy tent,
As the commander went—
Flicked his dusky mustache
With his own eyes to scan
Rampart and parapet,
Gave with grim seaward set,
He passed a lonely guard,
Standing in silent ward,
With his unbroken lance,
Let the great chief advance,
Short turning in his path,
He took such sudden wrath:
"Churl, does such carriage suit
Thy rank and mine? Salute!"
"Not of my will I fail,"
Answered the soldier pale
Under his helmet's shade:
"With this right arm of mine
I stopped a Spanish nail:
Fare you, my General!"
"Wounded, man, do you say?"
"Why, then, this rash delay?"
Quick to the hospital!
"Pardon, my General!"
Once more the accents clear
Spoke to the questioner's ear:
"For honor of his land,
Still must the sentry stand,
Though life and limb the cost,
I may not leave my post."
Cried cheeks of Eilat:
With noble passion hot;
Forward he strode a pace,
Gazed in the bearded face,
Now, by my sword, he said
"God, we have none to dread!
Wet with such faithful blood,
Forth from the rock must bid
Laurels of victory!
Comrade, salute I thee!
Give me I must that—
I take thy watch! Adieu!"
"My General, but—"
"Yours only to obey!"
Marching home, empty-armed,
Think you the sentry grieved?
Honoured on his breast
What cared he for the rest?
Come what might or befall,
His own grand General
(This fate could never alter)
Shared his watch at Gibraltar!
—Mary A. P. Stansbury.—"The Independent."

A SHORTAGE OF POTATOES.

The Weekly American Agriculturist estimates the total potato crop of the United States for 1894 at 165,000,000 bushels, which it says, compared with the population, is the smallest on record. The average yield per acre is also the lowest recorded, being only 56 bushels. With the exception of northern New England and Colorado, the whole middle states and the central West are short of potatoes. Quality is uneven; the best yielding sections have the finest quality, while the short sections complain of small tubers of inferior quality. The Canadian crop is also short. Prices have opened at a higher range than usual, and growers exhibit a tendency to hold for still higher values.

ON BOARD THE CHEN-YUEN.

A British naval officer attached to the Chinese naval squadron which was engaged in the fight off the mouth of the Yalu River has written a letter to the London Graphic, which was published in that paper Oct. 1. In this letter the writer gives additional details of the fighting, and says:—"On board the Chen-Yuen the fighting was awful. The decks and space around the guns were strewn with human fragments, and three of the five men working four guns were blown over by a shell from the Japanese warship Naniwa. A fourth gunner was shot while trying to escape from the turret, and the fifth stuck to the turret. This man fired three rounds at the Naniwa, one shell entering the engine room of the Japanese ship and another smashing her forebridge. The Naniwa then hauled off. The Chinese Admiral rewarded the surviving gunner with 1,000 taels. A shell glanced from the steel deck of the Chen-Yuen, and went through her turret, shattering everything therein. A lieutenant who was in the act of speaking through the tube leading to the engine room was blown into atoms and his head was left hanging on the speaking pipe. Fragments of armor and the tank backing the roof were carried in board by a shell crushing a large number of sailors into a shapeless mass. A European engineer, who was groping about in an endeavor to repair a steam pipe was drenched from head to foot with the blood of an assassin, who was afterwards killed by a shot from the enemy's ship. The Chen-Yuen arrived at Wei-Hai-Wei the day after the fight in the same condition in which she left the battle. No attempt had been made to wash the blood from her or to remove the corpses which strewed her decks." The writer expresses the opinion that if the European rulers could have seen the decks of the Chen-Yuen they would have forewarned her henceforth and forever.

CHASE'S CHAPTER

1. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are a combination of natural and artificial ingredients as prepared by the eminent Physician and Author, Dr. A. W. Chase, with a view to not only be an unfailing remedy for Kidney and Liver troubles, but also to tone the Stomach and purify the Blood, at a cost that is within the reach of all. The superior merit of these pills is established beyond question by the praise of thousands who use them—One Pill a dose, one box 25 cents.
2. When there is a Pain or Ache in the Back the Kidneys are speaking of trouble that will ever increase unless relieved. We have the reliable statement of L. B. Johnson, Holland Landing, who says: "I had a constant back-ache, my back felt cold all the time, appetite poor, stomach sour and belching, urine scalding, had to get up 3 or 4 times during night to urinate, commenced taking one Kidney-Liver Pill a day. Back-ache stopped in 48 hours, appetite returned, and able to enjoy a good meal and a good night sleep. They cured me."
3. Constipation often exists with Kidney Trouble, in such a case there is no medicine that will effect a cure except Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. One 25 cent box will do more good than dollars and dollars, worth of any other preparation, this is endorsed by Dr. Thompson, Holland Landing, Ont.

WOMAN'S NEED

Women suffer, unspoken tortures from muscular weakness, caused by impaired nerves and poor blood. Uric Kidney acid poisons, transported, weakens the nerves and poisons the blood. By and by, if the Kidneys do not properly purify the blood, then comes leprosy, rheumatism, etc. Blood 75 per cent. pure is not a nourisher. It is a death dealer.

Delicate women need not be told how much they would give to get and stay well. If their blood is free from the poisonous ferments of the Kidneys and Liver, they will never or better known. The blood is the know what "weakness" is. The blood is the source of sustenance of health.

It cannot be kept pure except the Kidneys and Liver do their work naturally. Something is needed to insure free and natural action of these organs, one 25 cent box of Kidney-Liver Pills will give to any sufferer they are a boon to women, can be used with perfect confidence by those of delicate constitution.

One Kidney-Liver Pill taken weekly will effectually neutralize the formation of Uric Acid in the blood and prevent any tendency to Bright's Disease or Diabetes.

For purifying the blood and renovating the system, especially in the Spring, one 25 cent box is equal to $10 worth of any other preparation. Sold by all dealers, or by mail on receipt of price, EDMANSON, BATES & CO., 45 Lombard Street, Toronto.

A HOP-BLIGHT.

Hop picking is now a thing of the past, and hop growers, in the vicinity of Bethel at least, are a sorry lot. The crop, generally speaking, was very good, but about the middle of September hops began to turn brown and even black in many cases. Not more than half the hops had been picked when this blight or whatever it may be called, struck them, and in a few days there were scarcely any left worth picking. It cannot be explained. Even the oldest hop men never saw anything like it before. The crop is now being wasted, and it may make prices better; if so, it may be a blessing in disguise. CHARLES SCHRYVER HAD KIDNEY DISEASE ALL THIS TIME AND DIDN'T KNOW IT—HOW HE FOUND OUT AND HOW HE WAS CURED.

TORONTO, Ont., 16.—Sixteen years ago kidney disease attacked Charles Schryver, a bricklayer by trade, but did not know it. It showed itself in the form of pain in the small of the back. They did not amount to much at first but kept growing worse. Within six years Mr. Schryver had almost every week had to quit work for one or two days on account of their pain. Doctors ascribed them to the liver and other causes and prescribed, but their medicine did no good. Last spring, a city physician diagnosed the case as one of diabetes and prescribed, but Mr. Schryver said, "No, it is diabetes, I'll use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I know will cure me." They did cure him, too, and to-day Mr. Schryver is free from all his pain and able to do his day's work, week in and week out, with any man in his trade.

TYNDINAGA AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

THE ANNUAL FAIR AT SHANNONVILLE.

The Annual Fair of the Tyndinaga Agricultural Society was held last Saturday, Sept. 29th, at Shannonville. The weather was superb, the sun shining out clearly all day, its warm rays imparting comfort and cheerfulness to all. Under such circumstances it was not surprising that the attendance was the largest in the history of the Society and that the event should prove in every respect a grand success.
 The arrangements made by the management were complete and it did not take long for exhibitors to get things in their place, and the judges were quickly at work fulfilling their respective duties. While they are doing this let us take a stroll around the grounds. There is a noticeable reduction in the number of cattle exhibited, though the animals shown were generally good. The decrease in this exhibit is due probably to the fact that the prizes offered are not large enough to induce breeders to send their herds, but for this state of things the directors are not responsible as their means cannot at present allow an increase in the sums offered for prizes. The exhibit of swine was particularly worthy of mention. The animals were superior in every respect, and it was admitted that nothing better had been shown to Toronto, Kingston or Belleville. Mr. Martin's Yorkshire boar, for example, is one of the very best in Canada. The sheep were of the best breeds and greatly admired by competent critics. The poultry department was, as usual, very good, several of the best fowl-landers in the province being members of this society. Mr. Fowell and other manufacturers of agricultural implements made a creditable exhibit of their wares.

In Agricultural hall the display of farm products was particularly good. The potatoes, beets, carrots, mangels, turnips, cabbage, etc., were of excellent appearance and quality and visitors were unanimous in declaring them to be of superior quality. The display of fruit, though not very extensive, was yet most attractive. The exhibit of dairy products and honey was worthy of praise. In the ladies' department there were many specimens of neat and artistic workmanship. Below will be found the price list.

HAD A TIGHT SQUEEZE

A young burglar from Pembroke was put in Carleton Place lock-up to await transportation to the central prison. Next morning he was gone. His movements were traced and his capture effected. Then the police explained his manner of escape. When daylight dawned he escaped out of his cell, hid the stove, far from reason. He made a pass, and with amazing dexterity paraded that instrument to come over to his cell. It was an easy feat to perform. He then stepped on the stove, and with a single bound he was out of the cell. He then stepped on the stove, and with a single bound he was out of the cell.

SAVED A CHILD'S LIFE.

A famous dog arrived in Montreal on Thursday, over the C. P. R., in charge of his master, Mr. Carl N. Staples, of Norridgeville, Maine. Don, a fine water spaniel, was present with his master at the funeral of a child. When the flames swept over him, the dog sprang forward, and with a single bound he was out of the cell. He then stepped on the stove, and with a single bound he was out of the cell.

"THE PULITANS."

Many changes and improvements mark the life of that little totto necessary, yelpie. From the heavy pile of early days of iron wire, heavily painted, with a clumsy lip shaped head, and depending for its strength solely on its weight, until the introduction of the Pulitan. The change might be called an evolution, so steady and gradual was it, but the Pulitan being so immeasurably superior to any previously manufactured, formed the first noticeable change. It was a change in the shape of the head, so to speak, distanced all competitors. Being made of the hardest brass, strength, pointed in all, which gives it penetrating power heretofore possessed only by steel needles, the Pulitan Pin wins its way wherever offered for sale. In the United States, where it is best known, it controls the pin trade, and though just introduced into Canada within the past six months, it is already being purchased, and no retailer who studies his customer's interests now thinks his stock complete without Pulitan Pins.

The Detroit Gas Co. has closed negotiations for the delivery of natural gas from the Canadian fields controlled by the United States and others will be piped under the river and supplied to natural gas consumers.

The Niagara branch railway in Beauce county, Quebec, was opened on Thursday at St. Eustache. Sir A. P. Croft and other political leaders were present. There was a crowd of about 7,000 persons to listen to the speeches.

Three safe robbers of Terre Haute, Ind., were run down by bloodhounds on Thursday night. One robber, named Charles River, of Indianapolis, was shot, and $1,000 of stolen money on his person. The other two got away.

HE TELLS IT HIMSELF.

A WEST OXFORD FARMER NARROWLY ESCAPES PREMATURE BURIAL—THE CAUSES OF HIS INTERESTING FATE AND LUCKY ESCAPE. An Oxford township, claim to have only narrowly escaped premature burial a short time ago. He had kidney disease for years back, and as he had a premature grave was completely laid up. Many doctors treated him, but their treatment, in Mr. Baily's opinion, made him worse rather than better. His escape from a premature grave was effected by the use of the famous Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes cured him completely. Mr. Baily claims to be able now to do a bigger day's work than his twenty-four year old son.

It is gradually becoming known that the fortune left by the Count of Paris is more than was expected. It is said the income of the present pretender of the Orleans family does not exceed $80,000 yearly.

To remove the constipated habit, the only safe treatment is a course of Dodd's Pills, followed by a laxative diet. Most other cathartics do more harm than good, therefore, laxatives should be avoided. Dodd's Pills, especially as a family supply.

A unique and remarkable transit system is in operation at Belpol, L. I. It is a bicycle railroad, which consists of about 50 persons—the cars being run on a single rail and connected with a guide overhead, supported by the bicycle wheels. The motor cars are propelled, heated and lighted by electricity obtained from this guide. The trains are so small, when moving, they cannot leave the track, and have reached a velocity of a mile a minute. A superb automatic block system to prevent collision will be introduced, which shuts off the power in the old block when entering the new one. A correspondence which visited the road for the first time, found it most interesting, and a comparison as between this and the larger railroads on which steam is employed at the same time.

DYSPEPSIA CURED

B.B.B.

Read the Proof.

Dear Sir—I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Burdock Blood Purifiers, and taking two bottles I found I was quite another man, for B.B.B. not only cured me, but I was able to go on with my family and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have ever placed in strongly recommending B.B.B. to all my friends.

I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B.B.B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.

Yours faithfully,
GEORGE READ, Sherbrooke, Que.

Manager,

YOUNG MEN ATTENTION.

It is not often in the business world of to-day that persons will be found who seriously dispute the importance of life insurance in its greatest field, namely, that of providing financial aid and support for dependent relatives when their natural protectors are removed, but it is difficult at times to convince young men of the importance of life insurance in their own case, that a company like the Canada Life offers them a means to provide for their own future, which is not to be obtained in any other way.

By the payment of a moderate sum annually for a definite number of years, an investment can be made, equal in point of profit to that which could be obtained in the department of the same sum in any banking institution. The importance of this fact is not easy to overestimate, and it has the greatest force and significance in the case of young men from, say 15 to 25 years of age.

At the age of 21, for example, a policy will be issued by the company payable to the insured in 21 years, which, with dividends, will yield 4 per cent. compounded interest at the time of maturity.

To a young man of 21, it will perhaps seem "a long long ahead," to imagine himself as having attained the age of 42—and yet it is not so long after all. Every year, as it comes and goes, seems shorter than the one which preceded it, and as they roll around and around, and to the young man a single fact is likely to be so great a cause of pleasure and satisfaction as that he was induced to an early age to adopt this method of saving his money.

A very slight examination will show that it has great advantages, peculiar to itself. One of these is that it is a method to meet payments of this kind, of which due notice is regularly given, a great effort will be made, and one not called out in the case of other methods of saving money, because the assured always has before him the fact that to reap the full benefit of his investment he must continue his payments, according to contract.

The experience of nearly every one will bear me out in saying that the careless, heedless and extravagant life which are so marked in the character of young people, make an incentive of this kind specially necessary and desirable. There is no common experience in the life of any agent than to have the holders of endowment policies say that they would never have saved the money in any other way than that they are the full amount of these policies to the good.

Money is deposited in the bank, and then withdrawn and spent, on the spur of the moment, and on the slightest pretext, and the making of subsequent deposits is neglected, for similar reason.

This subject is not only well worthy of being impressed upon the attention of young men themselves, but ought to be commended to the best consideration of their near relatives, who have such an intense interest in their future welfare and success in life.

In considering the above, life insurance part of such contracts have been kept in the background, but it must be given its proper place, and its great value duly and thoroughly considered.

The time coming when the majority of these young men will, in their turn, have those dependent on them whom they are bound by the closest of ties to care and provide for, and on the slightest pretext, and support would be a great calamity, were no such provision made.

Lured it is hardly possible to imagine circumstances under which unwise arguments could not be used in behalf of the contract of insurance which is herein referred to, and it is also patent that the number who are taking the fullest advantage of the opportunity offered is very small, compared to the number who might, and should do so.

To these last, therefore, we address ourselves, and beg to urge a thorough consideration of this important matter in the light which we have endeavored to throw on the subject, being particularly satisfied that to think will mean to be convinced, and that action will be certainly follow conviction.

Thomas Davidson, of St. Paul, in Life Echoes.

PRIZES FOR DRAWING.

Mr. S. E. Sammersville, of the Centenary Collegiate Institute, Hackettstown, N. J., has been in town for several days, and has given prizes to our schools. Mr. Sammersville, who is a member of the Drawing Boards and Writing Decks as prizes, one to the High, and two to the Public schools, taking in the branches in the school hall, and in the High school building, as well as the main school. The effect has been very beneficial to the school work of all of the schools. It is useless to expect a child of five years to understand that education itself is the most valuable thing that can be striven for, and that anything in the shape of a prize is always a spur to greater activity in all branches. Mr. Sammersville is to be congratulated on the successful termination of the contest and on the good feeling that has existed through the generous rivalry between the different schools. The pupils have shown the best of spirit throughout, and while no doubt in a measure disappointed, have heartily applauded their more successful competitors. The winner of the prize in the High school is Alice Johnson and honorable mention of work done by both Loretta G. Oliver and Fred O'Connor. The winners of the prize in the public school are Florence Taylor and Lawrence Forbes, and honorable mention is made of drawing done by Willie Smart and Henry Baker. We are sure that all appreciate Mr. Sammersville's visit to our town, and thank him for presenting the prizes in the schools.

MEN AND MONEY.

One Writer Thinks Two Can Read Character in the Handling of Money.

If you want to know something about a man's character, watch how he handles his money.

The generous, careless man carries his money loose in his pocket—copper, silver and gold all mixed up together—and when he is going to pay for anything he takes out a handful and picks out the amount he requires. He seems to have no fear of robbery, for he never enters a store with a purse, and he is perfectly honest himself thinks most others are like him.

Of course he is often cheated and imposed upon. He never enters a store with a purse, and he is perfectly honest himself thinks most others are like him. He seems to have no fear of robbery, for he never enters a store with a purse, and he is perfectly honest himself thinks most others are like him.

The man who, if he has to pay a few pence, won't even take the trouble of counting out his money in copper, but throws down a piece of silver to be changed—and by the way he rarely counts his change—is a type of "a fool and his money is soon parted." Perhaps a loss of display almost inseparable from such a character, has something to do with it.

The careful man always carries a purse and keeps the gold, silver and copper in different compartments. A man like this never wastes his money. He values it as it is going to be saved, and though his regard is determined to have his money's worth. He quite believes that "any fool can make money, but it takes a wise man to keep it."

The mean man never lets you see what money he has

JOHN WHITE'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late John White, ex M. P. for the West, took place at Roslin, Thursday, Oct. 10th, and was attended by a vast concourse of people from all parts of the county. The coffin containing the body arrived at Roslin on the Monday evening previous having been just one week crossing the continent. The funeral service was held at the home of the deceased by Rev. J. Black, Presbyterian minister at Roslin, assisted by Rev. S. A. Dupont. The latter clergyman, who is deputy grand chaplain of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America, presided at the funeral service. The conduct of the procession was in charge of the Grand Lodge of Ontario East. All leading Orangemen of Eastern Ontario were present, including county and district officers. At the request of Mrs. White and family the bearers were chosen from Mr. White's most intimate personal friends. They were: Messrs. A. N. Reid, W. L. Hamilton, N. B. Falkner, and Chas. Hudson, of Belleville; H. G. Gordon, Tweed; and M. Hill, Shannonville. The pall bearers selected by the Provincial Grand Lodge of Ontario East were Hon. M. B. Bovell, P. G. M., Mr. A. T. A. Kidd, Grand Master, Wm. Johnson, P. G. M., F. M. Clarke, Grand Secretary; A. Bradley, Deputy Grand Master; Wm. White, P. G. D. of G. of B. A. The procession was in charge of Mr. W. H. Craig, of Tweed, Grand Director of Ceremonies of Ontario East, who was ably assisted by Past County Master Robt. Porter of Hungerford. The various Liberal Conservative Associations of North, East and West, Hastings were present. The end of the procession that not left Mr. White's late residence when the head of it was at the grave yard, three quarters of a mile distant.

The funeral service at the grave was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Black; after which Hon. Mr. Bovell touchingly referred to a life long acquaintance with the deceased. Hon. Mr. Bovell said that it was always a difficult task on an occasion like this to speak of one with whom he had been so intimate as with the deceased, an intimacy which had existed from the time he came to the county of Hastings until so suddenly terminated by the end of death. In lodge work and in business matters he had known the deceased intimately and although he had his foibles like others, none being free from them, he was a true friend. It was their duty as brethren to bury the foibles and then remember only the estimable traits in his character as he, with others here found John White always ready to do his duty. As the head of a family he had always found the deceased a kind and affectionate husband and father, anxious that his family should not only grow up respectable but that they would occupy positions second to none in the community. The deceased, he said, possessed wonderful natural ability and force of character, which had gained for him a position in the country of which anyone might feel a just pride.

He referred to the great temperance of the deceased, which knew no such word as failure, and which caused him to look upon the bright side of life, which with his industry and push was one of the reasons of his success.

He then referred to the great shock it was to him when he heard of the sudden death of his friend and tendered his deep sympathy to the stricken widow, and hoped that she would bear her affliction with the patience of those who have lived in the religion, and closed with the wish that the children might emulate the good qualities of the father who had gone.

The Orange service was then read by Provincial Grand Master, P. A. Kidd, Past Grand Master of Hastings the Hon. M. B. Bovell, and Grand Chaplain Rev. S. A. Dupont.

CONDOLENCES FROM HIS PARTY.

The following resolution of condolence from the Liberal Conservative Association of West Hastings, was received by Mrs. White.

DEAR MADAM:—The members of the East Hastings Liberal Conservative Association desire to express their sympathy with yourself and family, in the death of your loved husband, and if human words could assuage your grief make less keen your pang of sorrow, would add them. We know, however, that they cannot, so that if our message be brief, it is none the less heartfelt.

His death has come to us unexpectedly, but we cannot yet realize that he with whom we have fought so many political battles, is gone forever. We recall his many, cheering words in hours when hearts less brave than his would have given up the conflict in despair, and we will treasure through words in the privilege we had of being counselled by his friend.

Dear Mrs. White, be assured that the members of the East Hastings Liberal Conservative Association share somewhat with you in the loneliness of these hours, are deeply touched with your bereavement and acutely feel the loss of him who is gone.

P. R. DALY, President.

CHAS. HUDSON, Secretary.

A DIFFERENCE IN BOY'S SUITS.

Once parents buy a little suit or overcoat of Sanford's they will have no other. The Oak Hall has the exclusive control for Belleville of this celebrated Maker's clothing.

AGREATIONS.

The Oak Hall, Belleville, have struck a great snap on 500 pairs of men's heavy fall-cloth pants. Did you ever hear tell of these at 25 per cent? We never heard of it. But in a few days you can get one pair or fifty at the Oak Hall. This is one of the greatest snaps we have ever offered. Remember only one pair per lot, and we never advertise nonsense.

Does the Oak Hall, Belleville, do the clothing trade? We believe that so. On Saturday last we had the largest September day known in the existence of our establishment, and we finished the month hundreds of dollars ahead of any previous September. The people appreciate our efforts to do a strictly first class clothing business.

WALL PAPER.

THE FALL is slowly but surely taking precedence over the Spring as a house cleaning season, particularly in the Wall Paper line. The old way of papering in the fall, the home offers greater attractions during the winter days and nights; the Christmas comes and the holiday season helps you in your welcome to the loved ones who have returned for a visit to the old home.

Then, again, instead of having a regular hurly-burly, to-day-tomorrow state thing all crowded into the old-fashioned annual house cleaning of springtime, why not divide your work up some, and give the fall papering a more dignified and dignified allowance to worry you in during April, May, or June.

We give you a genuine discount of 10 per cent off all Wall Paper, the regular prices of which are from 35 to 50 per cent, cheaper than any other house in the trade.

If you cannot visit our salesrooms, write a post card to-day for samples, and what kind a room you wish to paper, and we will send you a beautiful list of samples by return mail, and also our valuable little book entitled "Guide, how to paper," and how to get a $50 effect for a $5 investment in Wall Paper.

Intelligent people, who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla is able to cure. False Statements.

AWAY WITH THEM!

Statements Made in Favor of

Paine's Celery Compound

Always Ring With

Honesty.

A Marvellous Cure in

Viriden, Manitoba.

A Minister of the Gospel can

Endorse the Testimony.

False statements, like counterfeit coin for a time will pass current and undetected.

The false statements made in connection with a host of common medicines have duped and disappointed thousands of our suffering people in the past, and at the present time there are many who are being deceived from day to day.

These worthless and deceptive medicines, with all their false assertions about curing disease, are now being deposited on the black list in all well-regulated communities, and are carefully avoided and shunned by the wise and prudent.

It is only the powerful lever of truth that can move intelligent communities and people into the right way.

Every statement made in favor of Paine's Celery Compound, rings out with honesty and truth.

The letters of testimony come from our own Canadian people, whose doubts may later be removed by the following particulars.

Paine's Celery Compound has thousands of records of cures over rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, dyspepsia, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, kidney and liver troubles, general weakness and lost vitality.

The marvellous cure of Mr. James Leverington, of Viriden, Manitoba, by Paine's Celery Compound, after the failure of doctors and other agencies, should be sufficient proof for all firm-minded men and women who are honestly seeking for health, strength and new life.

Mr. Leverington writes as follows about his success with the world's best medicine:

"I think it my duty, without solicitation from any one, to write in the interests of other sufferers, and give you a testimonial in favor of your Paine's Celery Compound. For more than a year I was suffering from the agonizing pains of sciatica; and after trying all that medicine skill could devise, and using many remedies, patent and otherwise, I concluded to try the Hot Springs of Bath, and find the able assistance of Dr. Brett. I took the medicine thoroughly and carefully for six weeks, and came home at the end of that time racked with pain and weighing 40 pounds less. At this juncture, when hope had almost died, I heard of Paine's Celery Compound. It seemed suited to my case, and I sent to my druggist, Mr. J. W. Higginbotham, of this place, and asked for it. He recommended it to me, and I took a bottle. I soon began to feel better and after taking a second bottle I was a cured man and threw away my crutches."

"I keep a bottle on hand in case of any return of the complaint. I am now 58 years old, and I feel as spry and healthy and free from pain as I ever did in my life. I was born in Norfolk, England, and came to Canada when only 3 years old. I was brought up in the townships of Cornwall, Ontario, and came to Manitoba a farmer, and have always been a hard worker, and am as able to do hard work now as ever I was."

"With a heart full of gratitude for the benefits derived from the use of your remedy, and with influence others who may suffer, I gladly and freely indite this letter."

Rev. Mr. Talbot, Methodist Minister, of Viriden, can confirm my statements, and will do so if written to."

Mr. Higginbotham, the successful and extremely popular druggist of Viriden, vouches for Mr. Leverington's statements, as follows:

"I have known Mr. Leverington for two years or more, and can confirm what he says in regard to his cure by Paine's Celery Compound. Ever since he cured he has been sounding its praise, and he is a perfect enthusiast on the subject of Paine's Celery Compound. I believe him to be thoroughly reliable."

BRIGHTFORD, Oct. 15.—Thomas Hazlehurst, a compositor in the Brightford office in that city has been some time and down in health within the past few months.

Last spring he found himself suffering from diabetes in a very severe form. In a few weeks he lost 40 pounds in weight. His system kept on running down and Mr. Hazlehurst was very naturally alarmed. After trying many remedies without benefit, he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Tarce boxes made a big change in his condition, and six boxes were a complete cure. Mr. Hazlehurst is to-day better than he has been for years. Add one more to the list of diabetes cases cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

I believe it to be all its makers claim it to be."

The Influence of the Republic.

Think of what the republic has done for humanity! When we started at the end of the last century, the situation of Europe struggled their shoulders at the most dangerous political experiment that was ever tried on a large scale. A government by the people, they declared, means anarchy and revolutions. It is great, it is glorious, but it is utopian and will end in disaster.

Central America and South America followed our example until the whole western hemisphere became republican. France had ambitions, and after a series of struggles won a grand success. The time was triumphant, and the time is not far distant when crowns will be placed on the shelf with the rest of the bric-a-brac—New York Telegram.

Missionary Work in China.

A missionary, wishing to spur up a new crowd to good work, said: "Haven't you preached in Chinese yet? Why, I preached after being here six months, didn't I?" turning to a native who had been with him at the time and could bear witness to his great zeal. "Yes," replied the Chinaman, "you did preach, although none of us understood what you said, but we knew you were very angry about something."

A newcomer, going out for a walk, thought he would improve the time and his language by practicing by pronouncing to a Chinaman on the road, so he began his address by saying (as he thought), "Do you know you have a soul?" The Chinaman stopped short and looked in amazement upon the missionary, who repeated solemnly: "Yes, you have a soul."

When the Chinaman was quite impressed by the new thought, the good man gathered all his forces together for a telling sermon, beginning by repeating again very emphatically: "Do you know you have a soul?" and the Chinaman had taken to his heels, leaving the missionary to find out that by saying "soul" he had made a son and a bad one.

"You have a bad one."—New York Independent.

AT A BICYCLE SCHOOL.

HOW THE GIRLS ARE TAUGHT TO RIDE A WHEEL PROPERLY.

A Young Man Who Patiently Instructs Them How He Does It—The First Vault on the Safety and a Sudden Curve to Disaster.

"Do come with me this morning," exclaimed a slender young man, who had just been greeted by a friend on Madison avenue yesterday morning. "I am going to take my first lesson in bicycle riding."

"What you ride the bicycle?"

"The emphasis on the 'you' was made."

"Yes, I," replied the slender one, with a dramatic wave of the arm. "even I."

"Please don't say anything," she said quickly. "I know I've said all manner of awful things about women who ride the wheel, but I am willing to forget them now and I wish you would too. Consistency may be a virtue, but it is not progressive. The woman that clings to consistency never gets on, and I am bound to progress if I have to mount a bicycle to do so. Besides, it's quite the latest fashion. The very swiftest girls are riding, and I am not going to be left out of all the road and nutting parties that will rage next month. They say it is hard to balance oneself at first, but after that the girls can keep on. I can. Do come. Here we are now."

The two young women stopped for a moment to inspect the shining wheels of the big show window before disappearing down the basement stairway beneath. It was rather dark in the room they entered, the electric lights seeming dim after the brilliant sunshine outside. "This is lovely, isn't it?" said the beaming enthusiast as she viewed the padded walls and the mattress wrapped posts down the centre of the room.

"Just see; you can bump into everything and never get hurt."

But the floor suggested her more conservative companion. "I should imagine that that would be the most likely to trouble me in case of a fall."

The young lady will not fall, miss," interposed the dork-eyed instructor as he took a wide belt from the back of his chair. "I will see to it that there will be no falls if the young lady will put this around her waist and then follow my instructions closely."

The enthusiastic donned the belt with the help of her friend, who tugged at the stiff leather strap to bring it snugly about the small waist.

"Now the first thing I want to say," began the instructor as he slipped one hand through the long belt, which he held outside of the belt and held a bicycle with the other, "is never to let go the handle-bar."

"That will be easy enough, I am sure," remarked his pupil, "but perhaps I could hold it better if my gloves were off."

Then finger by finger the yellowish gloves are removed, the instructor meanwhile patiently clasping both belt strap and bicycle. The last little finger is uncovered and the gloves are finally tossed to the friend.

"Now I am ready," announces the young woman.

"Remember, please, never to let go the handle-bar," again admonishes the instructor. "Put your right foot on the pedal first, at the same time carrying your dress skirt over as far as you can. There, now you're all right."

The pupil vaults into the saddle and the wheels begin to revolve.

"Where is the place for your other foot?" she shrieks, pawing the air wildly with the unsettled member.

"It's there all right. Put your foot on the pedal as it comes up."

Whizz! bump! crash! Deadly silence for a second.

"Are you hurt, dear?" anxiously inquires the alarmed witness of the encounter between post and wheel.

"I think not," dubiously replies a faint voice from the confused heap on the floor.

The disentanglement of post, wheel, pupil and instructor begins. The last does not look particularly amiable as he helps the future bicyclist to her feet and brushes the light-colored dress.

"How stupid of me," apologized the pupil, but, growing technical, "where was that other pedal? Are you sure it is only examining the recumbent wheel?"

"See, it is here all right," shortly replies the young man. "Now please do as I tell you. Hold on to the handle-bar no matter what happens."

"Why, of course I can do that if the pedal will only act properly. It always goes down at the wrong time and comes up when I am not looking for it."

"Don't mind the pedal, I say, just hang on to the handle-bar."

This admonition is given very emphatically. The pupil is placed upright, the young man slips his arm through the strap at the slender waist and the young woman mounts again. This time there is too much skirt flying to the left, for which compensation is found in a third view of tan silk stockings on the opposite side.

"It is running away with me," cries the rider as the machine, under a mild push from the instructor, takes on in crooked speed.

"No it isn't, either; you are going all right."

A sudden curve to the right, the right hand deserts the bar and clutches blind ly for support. Over goes the machine and the young woman lands on her left foot. Then she tactfully busies herself adjusting her tilting hat and crumpled gown, while the dork-eyed instructor is pulling into position the red silk tie that floats limply from his left shoulder. He says strange words in a low voice which the charming pupil blandly ignores.

"How queerly that front wheel is twisted," is the first observation that breaks the painful quiet. "If it wasn't for that front wheel I know I could ride splendidly. Is that really necessary?"

The question is put with a most winning smile.

"Not at all, miss. It is only a question of knowing how to balance your self. See here is a single wheel, and I'll keep it going."

A tall wheel with short spokes is rolled away from the wall and the instructor leaps lightly across it. He whirls around a few several times in short circles, saving the air with his arms in order to keep his balance, as he exclaims, "I never could ride one of those."

It would be so horribly ungraceful, I think the two-wheeled ones are prettier when one is on the right kind of terms with the front wheel. I didn't do so well for a first lesson," this to her friend who begins to unfasten the leather belt.

"I suppose I'll feel stiff and queer to-morrow; the girls all say they do."

"Please don't say anything," she said quickly. "I know I've said all manner of awful things about women who ride the wheel, but I am willing to forget them now and I wish you would too. THOSE GAY PARISIANS.

THE MOULIN ROUGE THEATRE AND THE SCENES WITHIN.

Sketch of a Famous Paris Resort. A Wild Scene of Revelry. How the Ability of the Dancers is Tested. The High Kick-er in Demand. Some of the Salaries Paid.

The Red Mill stands at the top of a narrow, hilly street, in a broad boulevard in the heart of one of the poor quarters of Paris, says a writer in To-Day. It is lower, the height of the Montmartre, and the view of this mill will start a whirling at night, and then, with all its sails dotted with lurid spots of color, it winds and grinds modestly.

From the theatre the building wells out into an immense hall, as if it were a skating rink; up in the gallery above, a band stands. "The ball comes later," they tell you, "but the ball is the theatre, reached by climbing the little flight of steps, and eat ourselves."

"What will monsieur have?"

"But one, obliged to—"

"Two books, then."

The place fills up. We are surrounded by French tradesmen, shopkeepers and their sweethearts; the horse speculator, with his egg on his nose, and the takes care to tell you he has come from Antwerp and is down on his luck; quiet butchers and their wives in their Sunday clothes, eagerly straining their necks to the music of the singers, who follow each other in quick succession on the mimic stage.

Two Englishmen stroll by in deerstalker, their fresh skins in violent contrast to the greasy, or the waxy, or the surface of the stage.

CONFIRMATION SERVICE.

His Grace Archbishop Cleary administered the rite of Confirmation in the Church of St. Vincent de Paul last Sunday forenoon.

His Grace, accompanied by Mr. Farrelly, of Belleville, Archdeacon Kelly his secretary, and Rev. Father Hogan drove up from Napawa and was met at the Boundary road by the members of Deseronto Branch, C. M. B. A., who to the number of fifty-two had turned out to honor their Chief Pastor. In the church notwithstanding the inclement weather a vast congregation, including representatives from all the churches in town, had assembled, in fact very many people were unable to gain admission to the sacred edifice so great was the number who desired to see the ceremony. The Archbishop having held a brief conference with the altar, thanked the members of the C. M. B. A. for their great kindness and courtesy in turning out in such inclement weather to meet him. He would assure them that their attention was appreciated. Mass was then celebrated by Father Kelly, assisted by Father Hogan. His Grace then proceeded to confirm the candidates, 74 in number, 49 being from Deseronto and 25 from Napawa. The girls were all dressed in white while the boys had white badges on their arms. The impressive ceremony was observed with deepest attention by the whole congregation. After the ceremony His Grace proceeded to address some words of instruction to those confirmed. He said that in accordance with a canon agreed upon by the bishops of Ontario he would first ask them to make two promises. The Catholic church sanctifies the memory of the child at an early age and to that extent that religious truths should be learned. It was true the child might not comprehend what was taught, but it was lodged in the memory and would be understood in later years when the intellect was matured. He asked them therefore to promise that all, both old and young, would attend the Christian doctrine classes in the church for one year at least. In this connection he complimented the children upon the excellent examination which they had passed the previous day. He had been particularly well pleased in that respect and Father Hogan, their teachers, and the candidates themselves deserved great credit. Those confirmed having made the promise asked, the Archbishop proceeded to state that now that they had received the seven fold gift of the Holy Ghost by confirmation, they should delight to obey and please their priest and parents by exhibiting a Christian behavior. Too often parents allowed their boys to be out after dark, to go where they liked, mixed with all kinds of company, to make visits to distant places, etc. The result was that they became independent—or rather impudent—mixed with bad boys, were drinking places, played cards, stole money. For this the neglect of parents was largely accountable. The second promise he would require from them was that they should not taste or touch intoxicating liquor until their twenty-second year at least. If they kept this promise, temperate habits would be formed and the probability was they would then renew the pledge. Those confirmed also promised in compliance with Archbishop Cleary's request.

After congratulating Father Hogan on the result of his labors in Deseronto the Archbishop proceeded to address the parents of the children at great length in reference to their duties to the children. He explained the nature of Confirmation as a sacrament. Christ had promised the Holy Ghost to his disciples and the Holy Ghost was to be the great teaching principle in the church.

The world—the material world—would not know him, but the true disciple would be taught by him. The speaker showed that a change had been wrought in the apostles at Pentecost, how brave they became. He reminded his hearers that their bodies were temples of the Holy Ghost and should they be not to dedicate those temples by intemperance, lying, theft and other vices. He warned parents against allowing their children to run about at night—no true mother would permit her daughters to do so. He inculcated the duty of family prayers and worship. The family was the first school, but God's creation. It was not in the church but on the family floor that saints were raised. The Catholic church had enabled woman by making her the equal of the man. The mother was the queen of the household and to her the children while yet tender were committed to be properly trained. Hence the great responsibility that she would train them in right principles. The Archbishop having concluded his address asked those confirmed to offer prayers for his clergyman, and for those of the congregation departed in the Lord. The proceedings were brought to a close by the apostolic benediction.

NOTES.

The weather was cold and showery with occasional flurries of snow.

The Archbishop spoke for over two hours.

The necessity for a larger church was very obvious.

A baby in the gallery made itself heard, and the Archbishop, with a smile and humorous remark, ceased speaking and enjoyed a rest for a minute or two.

His Grace is evidently far from strong. He said that he was exhausted as the result of overwork during the past month. "We to us," he said if we do not work.

Father Hogan may have been gratified when he heard the Archbishop's deserved words of commendation.

The altar and different parts of the church were very neatly decorated with rare flowers. The altar also was beautifully illuminated with a large number of wax tapers and other colored lights, all producing a fine effect.

Mr. E. J. Nulton and Miss Lizzie (John) had charge of the confirmation classes from Deseronto and Miss Lancy, Whelan from O'Brien's church.

The following ladies attended to the decoration of the church for the occasion: Mrs. M. J. Hynes, Mrs. John Joyce, Mrs. L. Duquette, Mrs. F. A. Lundy, Miss Flood, Miss McCarthy and Miss Caughlin.

52 members out of 90 on the roll of Deseronto Branch, C. M. B. A., turned out; the others are scattered over the continent.

A GHOST AT LARKINS.

LARKINS, Oct. 15th.

Mr. Estlin—Great excitement prevails in this neighborhood. For some time back rumors have been current that a ghost had been seen near Murphy's Spur, a quarter of a mile east of Larkins' Station. One evening recently a certain lumber inspector from Deseronto being in this neighborhood on business was invited by a friend to go and reconnoitre the vicinity where the vision from Hades was said to appear. The Deseronto man who is by no means superstitious soon had his curiosity satisfied, for to his horror he was actually confronted by the being from the spirit world. After carefully scrutinizing the man from the region beyond the grave, the lumber inspector was forced to the conclusion that it was a real ghost and bent a hasty retreat back to the station. We fear our friend from Deseronto did not enjoy the slumber for the rest of the night and we all sincerely hope that his next visit to this place may bring him happier recollections than the last. We also trust that his late adventure may not disturb his equilibrium.

DIED ON TOP OF A HOUSE.

Last Friday, John Bennett, Stittsville, went up the ladder with a bunch of shingles to the roof of a house he was building for John Nichols in Goulburn.

He pushed the bunch over the ridge to two men working on the other side, remarking, "I have made some more just let me know." Two little children were down below looking on. They noticed Mr. Bennett lying very quiet and going around the house shouted up to the men that "Mr. Bennett hasn't moved since he gave you the shingles." The men looked over and saw he was stone dead and held on the slope by his foot caught in a scantling. Mr. Bennett was only thirty-eight years of age. He was unmarried, but was engaged to Miss Richardson.

WALL PAPER.

THE FALL is slowly but surely taking precedence over the Spring as a house cleaning season, particularly in the Wall Paper line. The old way of papering in the Spring, and in the Spring only is fast becoming a thing of the past.

People recognize, that by papering in the fall, the home offers greater attractions during the winter days and nights; then when Christmas comes and the holiday season is at hand, your cozy, cheerful rooms help you in your welcome to the loved ones who have returned for a visit to the old home.

Then, again, instead of having a regular busy-busy, topsy-turvy state of things all crowded into the old-fashioned annual house cleaning of springtime, why not divide your work up some, and give to the fall part of the work which you have to do, the time to do it.

We give you a genuine discount of 10 per cent off all Wall Paper, the regular price of which is $1.00, for 90 per cent, cheaper than any other house in the trade.

If you cannot visit our salesrooms, write a post card to DAY & SCANTLEBURY, mention what kind of a room you wish to paper, and we will send you a beautiful line of samples by return mail, and also our valuable little book entitled "Guide, how to paper," and how to get a $50 effect for a $5 investment in Wall Paper.

Black squirrels are said to be very numerous this year.

Wolves are said to be very numerous in all parts of the back country.

Mr. F. S. Rathbun's new flag staff is a conspicuous ornament on the hill.

The Alexandria expects to make five more trips before going into winter quarters.

Mr. James Stoddard, of the Prescott Journal, favored us with a call on Monday.

As a result of the recent arrests and trials in Montreal, the Grand Trunk Railway authorities are changing the routes of all their passenger service conductors.

The Rathbun Company now send a cow with carabao to the island on the St. Lawrence to be loaded with grain, etc., much to the convenience of the farmers.

It has been well remarked that a wise discrimination in the matter of grading the salaries of school teachers would have a decided tendency to elevate the profession.

The railway ferry transfer large Cairns now visits Adolphustown, Creasy, etc., and carries off apples, barley, etc., for shipment from Deseronto over the Bay of Quinte Railway.

The horses attached to the Big Store wagon while down at the steamboat dock last Friday evening took fright and ran away. Not much damage was done beyond the scattering of a barrel of apples which speedily became the prey of a number of boys.

It is a remarkable fact that half the enjoyment from smoking is derived from seeing the smoke curling up from pipe or cigar. Billed people rarely, if ever, smoke. They say they "cannot see the smoke," and all smokers are aware how disagreeable it is to smoke in the dark.

Telegraph poles are now made of paper pulp, in which borax, tallow, etc., are mixed in small quantities. The pulp is cast in a mould, with the core in the centre. The paper poles are lighter and stronger than those of wood, and are said to resist the action of sun, rain, and other destructive agents much better.

Mr. C. D. Richardson, Canadian manager of the London Guarantee and Accident Company, died in Toronto last Saturday. Deceased was the youngest insurance manager in Canada being only 27 years old. He frequently visited Deseronto on business and the intelligence of his death was heard with deepest regret.

Mr. Goodfellow, postmaster of Macdonald, has placed on our desk, three beautiful and mammoth apples of the King variety which were raised by Mr. Albert Blakely, of North Fredericksburg. They measured 13 1/2, 13, and 12 1/2 inches around while their weight was 15 1/2, 14 1/2 and 14 ounces respectively. They were pronounced beauties by all who saw them.

Mr. E. Ormady, who has been book-keeper and cashier for a number of years in the Rathbun Company's agency at Belleville, has taken a responsible position with Messrs. Cosset Bros., Brockville. Mr. Ormady was held in high esteem in Belleville, and before leaving he was presented with a gold watch and flattering address by the officials and employees of the Rathbun Company in that city.

The enlargement of THE TRIBUNE a few months ago appears to have waked up the press of the district. The Picton newspapers have followed our example and enlarged their columns. The Belleville dailies are bestirring themselves and publishing extra editions on Saturday. Kingston dailies are now reduced in price and retail for one cent. The Twoed News has also been enlarged and several papers are taking steps to keep up with the progress.

In his 28th annual report Dr. Barnard publishes a tabulated statement showing that up to the end of last year he had sent out 6,128 emigrants to Canada, of whom only six had been convicted of any crime, or less than one in 1,000. Evidently there is something wrong either about Dr. Barnard's figures or the information of many people in Canada who are strongly prejudiced against immigration of this character. It would be worth while to have the question definitely settled by governmental enquiry. Montreal Globe.

At the opening of Queen's College last week, Principal Grant, in an excellent speech, deplored the tendency of pupils to rush through their high school course and then enter college comparatively unprepared. He urged more attention to the study of classics and English. The mind was thus better prepared to study the sciences. He thought that little benefit was received by the study of the sciences in the high schools of the province. The system, and not teachers, was to blame for the defects of the present school system.

The entertainment given in the Indian council house by the Mohawk Brass Band was a great success. Vocal solos were given by Mr. H. Fowles, Mr. Simcoe Lof, Mrs. Douglas Fowles and a corset solo by Mr. Norville. The glee club gave a number of selections and the band acquitted itself most creditably. Many of the efforts were endorsed.

Mr. Wm. Nicholson, of Merrickville, lost seven calves, his entire herd, this summer from diphtheria. Last year he lost eleven with the same disease, and every calf was taken this summer to prevent them from taking it. They commenced to show symptoms of a hacking cough when about three or four months old, and then gradually dwindle and die. The stock of a number of other farmers through different sections seems troubled in the same way. When once attacked it seems sure death.

Prof. Carmichael, director of the Dominion Magnetic and Meteorological Observatory at Toronto, died at Hastings, England, last Saturday, aged 48 years. He was a native of Surrey, England, and studied at Cambridge, where he distinguished himself in mathematics. He first visited the United States and Canada in 1871. He succeeded Prof. Kingston in 1876 as director of the observatory, and it was owing to his exertions that the Weather Bureau has been developed in such a satisfactory manner. He had been ill for some time and went to the south of France in the hope of being restored to health. We had the pleasure of meeting Prof. Carmichael several times in his office and always found him courteous and genial.

Mr. M. A. Veeder, of Lyon, N. Y., who has of late years been making a careful study of the aurora, writes to the local observer in Deseronto stating that the records of observations of the aurora made at the station of Mr. Peary in North Greenland the past winter have been received and that their comparisons with similar records from Canada and other parts of the earth is now in progress. He states that it already appears that the conclusions heretofore announced in regard to certain phases of the subject are being substantially confirmed, and that the forces of which the aurora is the visible expression and type play an exceedingly important part in many ways. The relations to certain very definite solar conditions, and to thunderstorms, and to certain phases of atmospheric control are becoming especially clear.

At the opening services of Upper Canada College, Hon. G. W. Ross, minister of education, frankly stated that the college must in future depend upon its alumni and friends for support; the legislature would give no more grants in that direction. The minister voiced the opinion of the many; more sum of public money has in the past been squandered on Upper Canada College, with little or no practical benefit to the province.

Suicide at Bloomfield.

The lifeless body of the young married woman, Mrs. Wm. A. Christy, of Bloomfield, who was missing Oct. 18th was found in the waters of West Lake, over six miles from her home on Saturday. Deceased, it seems, had been rather dependent of late, but not much notice had been taken of it. She was only nineteen years old and possessed more than ordinary beauty and amiability. She had been married seven weeks. No cause can be assigned for the rash act other than temporary insanity.

The total number of Free Masons is therefore about 22,000,000. It has increased by 535,140 during the last 12 years. In 1878 there were 137,065 lodges and at present there are 141,353.

Wedding Bells.

A happy social event which has been looked forward to with very much interest by many in this district took place at Shannonsville last Wednesday evening, Oct. 24th. At the residence of Mrs. M. B. Lake, sister of the bride, and in the presence of a party consisting of immediate relatives, Mr. W. J. Magrath, of Belleville, and Miss Ada T. Lake, of Deseronto, were united in holy wedlock. The nuptial knot was securely tied by Rev. R. Taylor, pastor of the Methodist church, Deseronto. The pretty bride was dressed in sash silk and swan-down with veil and orange blossoms. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Knight, of Richmond, with her young niece, Miss Addie Anderson, of Deseronto, as maid of honor, both of whom were attired in white crepe trimmed with watered silk and lace. The groom was supported by Mr. W. J. McIntyre, of Belleville, and Master Louis Lake, a nephew of the bride, as page. After the ceremony the wedding party set down to a sumptuous repast, a prominent feature on the table being a beautiful five-storied cake with a horn of plenty on the top. The bride received a large number of handsome and useful presents including a gold watch from the groom. The happy couple, who united in holy wedlock, the nuptial knot was securely tied by Rev. R. Taylor, pastor of the Methodist church, Deseronto. The pretty bride was dressed in sash silk and swan-down with veil and orange blossoms. the vessel cut casts out and when they make their presence known sometimes there are five or six or more of them. Such a crowd is liable to make provisions run low before port is reached. Of course they are put to some kind of work, but there's mighty little to do aboard a coaster that a land lubber understands. These tramps are just like their land brothers. They are merely desirous of going from one place to another and keeping on the move all the time, although they sometimes tell you that they are here to understand the evil is a good deal worse on the Pacific than it is on the Atlantic side, but it's bad enough on this side I assure you."—Washington Star.

QUEEN BIDDY.

According to the census of 1891 there were 12,006,901 hens and chickens in Canada, besides 405,300 turkeys, 337,932 geese and 320,169 ducks. About Christmas time the lordly turkey would be counted the most important member of the feathered family in Canada, but he is a bird of small account compared with the humble biddy, whose industry even the mighty McKimley, with his United States Congress at his back, could not crush: Montreal Gazette.

The Streets and the Crossings

A well-known lawyer gives the following as the rights on the public highways in towns and cities: The streets belong to teams and vehicles and pedestrians have no more business upon them than the teams would have upon the walks. The crossings at the street corners belong to pedestrians who have the right of way there by law, and against teams. Many drivers ignore the law, and dash over the crossings endangering the lives of the pedestrians, without thinking they are violating the law. No vehicle nor horse can within the law, be driven rapidly over the crossing nor can the driver obstruct the crossing.

Death of Thomas Mitchell

Mr. Thos. Mitchell was found dead in his bed on Friday morning, Oct. 10th, at the residence of Mr. R. Shandraw where he has boarded ever since he came to Deseronto. It is supposed his death was due to heart failure. Deceased is supposed to have been a native of County Sligo, Ireland, and was about 54 years of age. He came to Canada about 25 years ago, and worked for a while on the Grand Trunk. He was employed for a time with Mr. Patrick McCambridge, of the gravel road, and worked for a year or two with J. R. Fraser, of Tanworth and S. Deaf, of Kenebec, in their lumbering operations. He then entered the employ of the Rathbun Company as shanty clerk and for 25 years had been a faithful employee of the Company. Mr. T. Butler refers to him as a man of the greatest honesty and fidelity to duty. Deceased was of a very retiring disposition and peculiar in many respects, but was held in high esteem all through the town. He was probably the best arithmetician in this part of Ontario, no problem being too difficult for him to solve. Among his affects is a large collection of mathematical works. A few years ago a sister came over from Ireland and made him return home where he remained however for only a short time. He left over two thousand dollars in money, but made no will. An attempt will be made to find his relatives, if any. The remains were removed to the vault of the Roman Catholic cemetery at Napane, religious services having been first conducted by Rev. Father Hogan.

The visitors were then escorted to Spruell's Hotel where they were entertained to a magnificent supper to which ample justice was done by all present. The visitors were glad to find Court Odessa prospering and greatly appreciated all the kindnesses extended during their stay. They hope to have the pleasure at an early date of welcoming their Odessa brethren in Deseronto.

OCTOBER.

October glows in every cheek,
October shines in every eye,
While up the hill and down the dale
Her crimson banners fly.

HAVE A THOUGHT.

Do not be contented with thinking once, but think twice or three times before you leave your measure for a suit or overcoat this fall. Just think that the Oak Hall, Belleville, is prepared to save you a nice little bit of money on your purchase and give you equally as good satisfaction as if you paid the highest "made to order" prices.

WALL

PAPER.

THE FALL is slowly but surely taking precedence over the Spring as a house cleaning season, particularly in the Wall Paper line. The old way of papering in the Spring, and in the Spring only is fast becoming a thing of the past.

People recognize, that by papering in the fall, the home offers greater attractions during the winter days and nights; then when Christmas comes and the holiday season is at hand, your cozy, cheerful rooms help you in your welcome to the loved ones who have returned for a visit to the old home.

Then, again, instead of having a regular hurly-burly, toasty-warmy state of things all crowded into the old-fashioned annual house cleaning of springtime, why not divide your work up some, and give to the fall part of the work which you hitherto have allowed to worry you during April, May, or June.

We give you a genuine discount of 10 per cent off all Wall Paper, the regular prices of which are from 35 to 50 per cent cheaper than any other house in the trade.

If you cannot visit our salesroom, write a post card to-day for samples. Mention what kind of a room you wish to paper, and we will send you a beautiful set of samples by return mail, and also our valuable little book entitled "Guide, how to paper," and how to get a $50 value for a $5 investment in Wall Paper.

BEAVER OVERCOATS $7.

The Oak Hall, Belleville are altogether too modest sometimes in their advertising. We have got a beaver overcoat at $7, this year, and it is such a beauty that if any one else had the same for $10 they would yell themselves hoarse over it. You can get these coats in navy and brown and they are worth $10. At the Oak Hall for $7.

An American thinks the vein of gold-bearing rock in Kibevir, near the old point mine, is worth $500,000. He will set up machinery to work it.
